THE THEATRES

POLI'S

When "The Regeneration" was produced in New York the latter part of September, several clergymen were invited to see it, and they were all so impressed by the performance. All agreed that the drama was a forceful appeal for good, and one minister wrote the following letter:

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH OF WILLIAMSBURG.
Marcy Avenue, corner of South Fifth Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Rev. J. Austin Huntley, Pastor,
150 Marcy Avenue,
Lieblich & Co., New York City.
Dear Sir:—By your courtesy, Mrs. Huntley and I attended "The Regeneration," Monday evening, the 28th of September.
In its portrayal of character, both in its possibility of degradation and also elevation of selfishness and also self-remuneration, and in the setting forth of the adequacy of divine love in effecting its redemption, this play is a powerful appeal to the human heart. Thanking you for your courtesy, and asking pardon for delay in writing, I am,

Very truly yours,
(Signed) J. AUSTIN HUNTLEY.
"The Regeneration" will be played by the Poli Stock Company all next week. It is a play that stirs the soul, ennobles the mind and makes men and women better. It will be shown with all the necessary requirements in way of scenery. The story depicts the Bowers denizens and East Side dwellers, their lives and their characteristics.

JACKSON'S

EDDIE LEONARD'S MINSTRELS.
Eddie Leonard's Minstrels will be the attraction at Jackson's Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday, with a grand bargain matinee on Wednesday, where he will present his matchless company of comedy stars, singing celebrities and vaudeville headliners, in a spectacular minstrel revolution. The claim is occasionally made that minstrelsy is one and the same; that claim should be confined to others, for it certainly does not apply to the "Eddie Leonard" case, which is on the tidal wave of supreme success and playing to the largest audiences ever known in minstrelsy. The cause for the effect is progressiveness, enterprise and broad gauge management. This season's company, which numbers over half a hundred, is beyond question the highest salaried and most carefully selected ever seen with an organization of this class. Of course, first on the list is Eddie Leonard, who can be aptly named "The Mangle of Melancholy," a comedian who can always be relied upon to present something new. Mr. Leonard was last season the headliner of Cohan & Harris' Minstrels, which is no mean position to hold, when one considers the available talent that probably could be found to fill such a position, but Eddie Leonard is selected, and the Cohan & Harris made no mistake can be gleaned from the enormous business their organization did last season. Seat sale starts tomorrow morning at 9.

"THE TOP O' TH' WORLD."
Mr. George H. Murray, advance manager of "The Top o' th' World," the big comic opera success from the Majestic and Casino Theatres, New York city, was in town yesterday finishing all details for the appearance of this attraction at Jackson's Theatre, on Friday evening, Aug. 20. Mr. Murray says the production here will be as complete as that given in the largest cities, with a company of seventy-odd people.

DIFFICULT CASES
We take special interest in measuring and fitting eyes which are called difficult. We always like to hear a patron say that he has tried a dozen specialists, but could get nothing that suited him. We like to have these cases for several reasons. First, because when the correct lenses are selected they prove of untold benefit to the wearer. They make him see as he never did before, and give him relief from eye strain and discomfort. Second, because we take pleasure in hunting out complicated defects and solving difficult problems. We have a natural love for the optical science and enjoy working out intricate conditions. Third, because where others have failed naturally adds to our reputation and helps in building up our business. If you have tried to get good glasses and have failed, we want to see you. If you can be helped with glasses we have not the slightest doubt of our ability to fit you.

The Champions of 1908 look like a bunch of cripples when they appear on the field. Jack Collins, the clever first baseman, is out of the game, probably for the rest of the season. Collins was struck in the face with a thrown ball last Friday, the force of the ball fracturing his jaw. His head is now in a brace, and for three weeks he will be obliged to take only liquid food and then through a tube. Outfielder Waite sprained his ankle in the game at Newfield Tuesday afternoon. While his throwing hand is as quick as ever, he has a very sore finger that causes him severe pain every time he plays. While Joe Connor is troubled likewise, Alf in Manager Zeller is having a great time.

VICTIM OF ROCHESTER CEMETERY FIEND,

HER HOME AND SCENES OF THE CRIME

(Special from United Press.)
Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Though they have three men under arrest, one of whom is believed to have been the man who assaulted pretty Anna Schumacher, murdered her and then threw her body into a shallow grave in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, the Rochester police are still working hard to unravel the mystery.
Edward Ewald, 27, is undergoing a rigid third degree by city and county officials to-day. Ewald was arrested at North Rose, N. Y. County Jail yesterday afternoon. He finished working for a farmer about a mile from the scene of the murder Friday. From then until Sunday morning up to 2 o'clock his movements are shrouded in mystery and the police insist that he explain them. It is declared he told members of a posse Sunday morning that he was going to Toronto but it is thought he had no intention of doing so.

The police to-day will tell no more about Ewald and will not allow him to be seen though they declare his face is badly scratched and that he bears every indication of having had a struggle. Some attention is being paid to two suspects under arrest at Iacon. One of the men has a badly scratched face and torn shirt. Both deny that they have been in Rochester.

acres of timber have been burned over and 39 houses along the Pool road, five miles from this city, barely escaped the ravages of the flames. Only the presence of the men of Company O of the First Maine Regiment, who, when called out at the request of Mayor Horrigan, kept the flames from the houses, and today many men are still on guard to prevent further damage should the wind turn the flames back again.
Already large amounts of valuable timber have been destroyed and it is feared that a shift of wind will more than double the damage.
